

The Faerie Code
Making Our Wishes Come True by
Realizing Our True Magical Nature

By Monica Canducci

As a trans-disciplinary and trans-dimensional dancer, artist, author and researcher in the field of traditional spiritual paths, I have study transcultural approaches to healing and disciplines. My focus is on the interconnections between body, mind, emotions and environment. This is how I discovered the Faerie Code.

I have always been committed to the exploration of the relationship between human structure, movement, archetypes and psychological states in order to help people achieve self-realization. Through my joyful channeling, information flows from the dimension of Being, which is invisible to the eye and much subtler than tangible information. This information flow allows me to help people connect with their missing dots in order to make their wishes come true... because this is what Faeries are supposed to do!

In fact, I am also known as "Dancing Fairy" because I perform as I am immersed in Nature with all its elements. Dance is my favorite means of expression, and I utilize it also in my workshops as an instrument for healing. For each one of the books I wrote, I created a show and a workshop. In this way I can share with my audience, students and followers joyful tools for a deep transformative work, leading to self knowledge and realization of our full potential. This allows full expression in harmony with the world around us.

Many years ago I was called to write about Faerie beings, transmitting their message globally. I dedicated a great amount of time to research into the Faerie dimension. My book, The Faerie Code is partly based in personal experience and partly on my research, not only through books, but especially through deep connection with other many teachers, healers and masters from many different spiritual paths.

As an avid artistic painter, I began creating magical faerie being's paintings that I felt connected to. I felt such a close connection to the Faerie World that I began to dance and perform in theatres... inspired by these subtle, invisible dimensions of Being. A deeper understanding and revelations occurred as I began to connect the dots between the Faerie Realms and the fascinating world of neuroscience.

Interestingly, I found that the hidden principles ruling the communication between the Faerie/Genie world and the human dimension are very similar to the principles ruling the communication between the conscious and unconscious parts of our brain and mind.

By comparing ancient spiritual teachings with the understanding of way our brain works, I found that some principles are "hidden" within our own human structure producing yet another "secret" behind "The Secret." This resulted in the discovery of a "Secret Law" that works beside the "Law of Attraction." Surprisingly, this "Secret Law" can be amplified enormously in our ability to utilize the Law of Attraction itself, enabling us to find the key in which to unlock the Faerie dimension and its amazing gifts.

There is a definite connection between this Secret Law, the Faerie world and our human structure and physiology. I brought these exciting revelations through the publication of my book, "The Faerie Code." Above all, it is a delightful tool to realize our true nature and self, which allows us to accomplish our spiritual journey on Earth.

In the Faerie Code, I describe this invisible realm defined by different spiritual and popular traditions around the world as "Faerie" and its inhabitants, explaining how those beings could interact with the human dimension. It truly doesn't matter if we believe in Faeries or not, because they actually represent and in most cases reflect some functions of our human attitude and consciousness.

Once we understand the connections between the Faerie and the human dimension – which is the secret language understood and spoken by the Faerie, we begin to own the key to access our deepest resources. It is a journey into the Faerie dimension that creates a deeper connection within hearts. This state promotes well being, harmony, health, peace, unconditional love, gratitude and fulfillment. And it is what is exactly needed to contact the Faerie realm. This is indeed necessary to avoid undesired surprises, due to a few of the Faerie beings being some naughty ones!

My research also reveals the secrets to utilize clearly mental imagery to be turned into imagin-action. Yet again, this is another prerequisite to be understood by the Faeries and Genies, when we make a wish!

The Faerie Code is a journey which includes seven tales, meant to bring the reader to seven 'gates' which are levels of initiation to the Faerie Path, each one revealing a special gift from the Faerie realm.

It is a guide to understand not only the Faerie dimension and its connections with our human world, but it reveals how our thoughts and emotions have an impact on the physical world that resonates within the Faerie dimension which amplify everything we transmit and emanate.

By understanding the hidden meaning of faerie tales, we often can find a way to increase our awareness and to manage our thoughts, emotions and relationships in a beneficial way, creating harmony and promoting wellbeing all around us.

Once we understand the connections between the Faerie and the Human Dimension - which is the secret language understood by the Faeries, we begin to own the key to access our deepest resources.

And, of course, when we can increase our opportunities to connect with the elements and Spirits of Nature and Faerie beings in general terms, we make the invisible seen.

The Faerie Code produces many secrets, and since it can be read many times, it brings about many levels of understanding. It is written in a way that enables the readers to increase their ability to connect with the magic of life, in any given moment or situation, to find the needed resources in order to realize their true nature. This is what make their dreams come true in complete harmony with the world around.

What I have discovered through The Faerie Code is that it is like a bridge between what is visible and what is invisible for the human eye. It is meant not just for looking into the Faerie world, but it also exposes the world of the hidden aspects of our potential and consciousness. It integrates knowledge from traditional within spiritual paths of personal experiences, as it reveals the connections between popular beliefs with the contemporary discoveries in the field of neuroscience. It again, reveals the secret code to access our personal self-realization, happiness and wellbeing.

I created a workshop around The Faerie Code addressed in order to teach people the secrets to connecting to the Faerie dimension. In a workshop setting, I am able to easily transmit (channel) what I'm constantly receiving from the invisible world. Even though I can transmit through the written word of my books, the Invisible Dimension calls me to share "in person" as it is more effective allowing for faster growth. When I am in touch with the Faerie realm, channelling the flow coming from the highest dimensions of the Faerie world, and I can share this "state of grace." The benefits coming from experiencing it in person is an amazing experience whether a workshop or a speaking engagement. And this is what I love more: sharing with others the gifts I receive from the subtle, invisible dimension of Being.

The world of Faeries opens up a new dimension which can only enhance your life to rapidly expand into a magical realm of absolute joy and a great sense of well-being.

"Whether this dimension belongs to the inspiration coming from the realms of Consciousness, or rather to a subtle Dimension where the Faeries are supposed to live, it does not matter much... Because on the Faerie Path everything is possible..."

About Monica Canducci

Born in Italy on the Adriatic Coast Monica has always been attracted to the invisible side of life, and to the invisible worlds that she was able to perceive and, sometimes, even to see around her. At the age of 17, she discovered herself to be an extraordinary channel in which to receive information not only from the afterlife, but also from that subtle, ethereal dimension described as Faerie. As an adult, by following the call of the mountain, she happily moved first to the magic Aosta Valley at the slopes of the magnificent Mont Blanc, fulfilling a kind of mission related to Spirits of Nature and their connection with the humans who are living there. Then, in 2012, by responding to another call involving all the family she moved to the enchanting and powerful Quebec, with her husband, son and her three cats. Monica also has a scientific background She is a Certified Rolfer™, Rolf Movement practitioner and creator of the Move-In Mind™ method about the power of mental imagery in rewiring our neural
